BOOKS TEACHERS SHOULD READ.

A few weeks ago Librarian John C. Dana, of the Newark Free Public Library, in an address to the students of the Newark Normal School, read off a list of books which he said every teacher should read long before she begins to teach. As he read the titles the young ladies raised their hands to show which of the books they had read. There were 169 in all who submitted to the test, and following are the titles of the books, together with the percentage of the students who had read each:—

"Grimm's Fairy Tales," "Aesop's Fables," and Louisa Alcott's "Little Women" each 94 per cent. plus; Bunyan's "Pilgrim's Progress," 84 per cent.; Cooper's "The Last of the Mohicans," 79 per cent.; Scott's "Ivanhoe," 78 per cent.; Hawthorne's "Wonder Book and Tanglewood Tales," 76 per cent.; Dean Swift's Gulliver's Travel," 70 per cent.; "Arabian Nights," 66 per cent.; Macaulay's "Lays of Ancient Rome," 64 per cent. plus; Hughes' "Tom Brown at Rugby," 63 per cent.: Stevenson's "Treasure Island," 62 per cent. plus; Kipling's "Jungle Book," 54 per cent.; Mark Twain's "Adventures of Tom Sawyer," 40 per cent. plus; Brown's "Rab and His Friends," 23 per cent. plus; Aldrich's "Story of a Bad Boy," 22 per cent. Stevenson's "Child's Garden of Verses," 20 per cent. plus; Agnes Repplier's "Book of Famous Verse," 14 per cent.; Palgrave's "Golden Treasury of Songs and Lyrics," 13 per cent. plus; Dana's "Two Years before the Mast," 13 per cent.; Stockton's "Stories of New Jersey," 9 per cent.

This summary is interesting. The test had titles of books that nearly every one of the students must have read, and now and then came some that were "posers." enough the least one read was Frank Stockton's "Stories of New Jersey." The juniors showed they had read more of the books than the seniors, and in four instances every junior had read the book. The lowest per centage in the junior class for any one book was 10 and in in the senior class 3. It goes without saying that the students at the Newark Normal class are now very busy in their leisure moments with the books they ought to have read-the things they have left undone.—The Newark Cal.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30, 1902.

To whom it may concern:

This is to certify that some eight years ago there appeared on the back of my head a rough spot, about the size of a dime, which gave me a great deal of trouble. I tried different preparations for the hair and scalp, but without avail, as it only grew larger. I then underwent medical treatment, and for six years spent time and money to cure the sore, but nothing seemed to help me as the sore increased to the size of a dollar bill, and became not only annoying to me, but repulsive to my friends. It seemed as if the sore had come to stay.

As I am engaged in the express business and necessarily handle all kinds of goods, I came across a package of the Buffalo Hair and Skin Tonic, and thinking it might be well to try this remedy I procured a bottle of it and although not having much faith in it, began using it according to directions.

The effects were beneficial from the first, and

The effects were beneficial from the first, and now, after using three bottles, I am glad to say that I am entirely well. It is great stuff. Come and see for yourself and I will tell you what to do. There is nothing like it for the hair and skin.

REPORT OF THE NEW ROCHELLE PUB-LIC LIBRARY FOR THE YEAR END-ING DECEMBER 31, 1902.

To the Honorable, the Board of Trustees, Gentlemen:—

The following report embodies the important changes which have been effected during the last twelve months, covering practically all the time we have occupied the present building.

CIRCULATING DEPARTMENT.

One of the most gratifying results of the year's work in this department, is the increase in the circulation of the books of non-fiction. The change is due in large measure to the fact that many of these books are on shelves open to the public. Although the number of books placed on open shelves is comparatively small, about four-fifths of the total circulation is from these shelves. In the morning all the books are accessible to the public.

A reserve system has been instituted, and after six months use has become indispensable. Owing to the size of the circulation, it would be difficult for borrowers to obtain the books most in demand without such a system.

Books for boys are placed on a shelf together, and lists of books are provided for girls growing away from the children's department.

A few French and German books have been added. The number will be increased as the demand warrants.

The revision of the card catalogue is almost complete, and now every book is represented by author and by one or more subject cards. Thus all the material in the library on a given subject, may be found under that subject in its alphabetical place in the card catalogue.

The Library Bulletin appears every two months, and contains a list of the new accessions, and reading lists on timely subjects.

READING-ROOM.

Few libraries of equal size can boast of so large a reading-room. While there are doubtless many citizens who do not appreciate this fact, the room is being used more, all the time. The Reader's Guide and Cumulative Indexes, furnish a valuable index to the magazines, many of which will be permanently bound. Bulletins on timely subjects are occasionally placed in the room, with references to articles in the periodicals.

CHILDREN'S ROOM.

This department was a success from the beginning, as children, parents, and teachers will testify. While there are many books which must be placed in the main department, to satisfy popular demand: the greatest care is taken in the selection of books for the children's room. The aim is to have books which are not only interesting, but of the highest literary character. Access to the shelves is allowed at all times and the privilege is not abused. Picture books are provided for the little children, and the room is made as attractive as possible.

Picture bulletins on the following subjects have been exhibited during the year.

Animals.

Hallowe'en.

Thanksgiving.

Christmas.

New Year.

Conveyances.

Lincoln.

Washington.

Naval battles.

Spring.

Birds and flowers.

King Edward.

Indians.

Snow.

The work in this department is closely connected with the reference work, which is developing, and will probably become an important part of the work of the library. Lists have been prepared for clubs, school grades, pupils and teachers. On request, books on various subjects have been placed one side for reference by students. A few books have been loaned to the Huguenot School, for circulation among the children who, are not able to borrow direct from the library. The principal of this school reports good use of the books.

LECTURES AND EXHIBITIONS.

The following lectures and exhibitions have been offered to the public during the year.

- Loan exhibition of original drawings from the Century Company, New York.
- 2. Lecture on Montcalm and Wolfe, by Mary V. Worstell.
- 3. Course of six lectures on the early colonists in North America, by Mr. W. Wallace King.
- 4. Course of five lectures on the Wagner opera, by Mr. Thomas Whitney Surette.

As a direct result of the last course of lectures, we have noticed a very evident increase in the circulation of books relating to Wagner, and on music in general. Four hundred children listened to the lecture by Mr. Surette on the fairy opera, Hansel and Gretel. This lecture was a notable success, and the number of new applications for membership during the week of the lecture was unusually large.

The statistics for the year are appended.

Respectfully submitted,

ELIZABETH C. STEVENS,

Librarian.

Simmons & Hammond,

There are few useful products that have been more numerously and less successfully imitated than

BRUSH'S KUMYSS

The same word, often the same lettering as directions on the label, the same colored ink, and sometimes a device that imitates closely the Trade-Mark, may cover a base imitation.

Only the word "BRUSH" will make your order definite.

MILK

Every common-sense detail possible to observe is practiced in Dr. Brush's Milk Dairy. Only the milk of the cows in perfect health at the time of milking—nothing but whole grist of the best grain—no refuse of any kind used as food—all the care and attention to the cows is given with an intelligent desire to produce "Good" Milk that can be fed to the baby "Fresh."
